Site Folder Setup for Vacation Site (Required)

Make 2 SEPARATE folders (You've probably already started the one on the left.)

1 This folder has your original images as downloaded from Pixabay, as well as any PSD or AI files, such as your comp.

You will not be turning in this folder. (But you need it in order to make the things that go in the site folder.) These files will not be uploaded to the internet when/if you make your site live.

2 This folder has ONLY the files that will make your site work. This folder will be uploaded to the internet when/if you make your site live. It is this folder that you will turn in (uploading to Google Drive.)

Resources_Vacation

- an-original-gigantic-file.jpg
- another-original-gigantic-file.jpg
- a-photoshop-file.psd
- my-comp.ai
- my-wireframe.ai

SITE_lastname_vacation

- index.html
- images
  - skyline-2650px.jpg
  - mountain-2650px.jpg
  - boats-600px.jpg
  - footer-background.jpg
- style.css
- trails.html

Only the final, web-optimized version of the images should be in here. (See "Saving Images For Websites/Screens" handout.) If they are saved correctly, they should all be under 1 MB, and no wider than 2650px. Images that don't end up being used should be deleted before submission.

Don't capitalize this, or you'll have to remember to capitalize it in the code each time.

Later, when we make the other pages of your site, they will appear here.

File Naming on the Web

Reminder: Be careful how you name folders and files (including images!) for use on the web.

- Avoid special characters in a file or folder name.

- Do not use any spaces in a file or folder name.

- Naming is case-sensitive.
  Note: You might get away with a case discrepancy on your local site, but when you upload the site to a server, links to your files may break.

Once more for emphasis: PLEASE only turn in images that have been properly saved for web/ screens. Otherwise, it will quickly fill up my storage.